

NEW RULES VIDEO RELEASED

IWBF is pleased to announce the release of its latest video. Called “Rules of Distinction”, this video is especially designed for athletes, coaches and referees who already know the rules of FIBA, and who would like to become familiar with the wheelchair specific rules.

As wheelchair basketball grows in stature and popularity, so does the need for more, and more, highly skilled coaches and referees.

The rules for wheelchair basketball, as played under the jurisdiction of IWBF, are based on the rules of FIBA. Most of the rules are the same, but there are differences. This video illustrates the rules that distinguish wheelchair basketball from its FIBA counterpart, rules that make the sport exciting and unique, as well as fun to play and watch.

The rules video joins the very popular “Introduction to the Player Classification System” video released earlier. IWBF is hopeful that the new Rules Video will prove as useful as their first video has. “Rules of Distinction” is available in VHS formatted for NTSC, PAL or SECAM. It will be available shortly on DVD.

“Introduction to the Player Classification System” is also available on VHS formatted for NTSC, PAL and SECAM and is a valuable tool in teaching players, coaches and new classifiers the basics of the functional player classification system used by IWBF.

IWBF is also pleased to announce that it has printed the new Rule book adopted at the World Congress in August 2002 and it is available for purchase.
